Subject:	Year of Young People 2018 – Inverclyde Plan

1.0 PURPOSE

- 1.1 The purpose of this report is to inform the Policy and Resources Committee of the work being undertaken to plan Inverclyde's contribution to the 2018 themed year, the Year of Young People.
- 1.2 To seek Committee approval for the remitted recommendation of the Education & Communities Committee to provide £20K additional funding to enhance the programme.

2.0 SUMMARY

- 2.1 The Scottish Government established its first Themed Year in 2009, 'Year of Homecoming'. This proved a success for Scotland, creating a string of benefits for the country whilst boosting tourism. In recognition of the success, a series of Themed Years were announced and have continued to be a success for the country. 2017 was the Year of History, Heritage and Archaeology.
- 2.2 The Scottish Government has however taken a bold step to move away from the traditional Themed Year concept which has been focused around tourism. Whilst tourism is exceptionally important to Scotland, this year will see an exciting programme of educational and cultural events centred on another of Scotland's great assets, our Young People.
- 2.3 This themed year differs significantly from previous years. The Scottish Government wishes to use 2018 to showcase the skills and talents of our young people, in particular by requiring that all local and national plans being developed are co-designed and co-produced with young people themselves.
- 2.4 Three national youth work organisations were approached to work with young people to assist design and co-ordinate the Year of Young People, those being; Children in Scotland, Young Scot and the Scottish Youth Parliament.

3.0 RECOMMENDATIONS

- 3.1 It is recommended that the Committee:
 - Notes the requirement of the Council to develop a Plan for the Year of Young People 2018
 - Agrees funding of £20K to enhance Inverclyde's Year of Young People 2018 plan as recommended by the Education & Communities Committee

Wilma Bain
Corporate Director: Education, Communities and Organisational Development

4.0 BACKGROUND

4.1 The Year of Young People 2018 (YoYP 2018) has been co-designed with young people right from the very beginning; everything from the year's six themes to the logo and website have been co-designed with young people.

4.2 A significant exercise of consulting young people across Scotland and the recruitment of young people to become Ambassadors (4 have been recruited for Inverclyde) for the themed year resulted in a planned approach with the following sub-themes being identified:

Participation; Education; Health & Wellbeing; Equality & Discrimination; Enterprise & Regeneration & Culture

4.3 Each Local Authority has been asked to devise a plan for progressing the YoYP. A named officer (Mark Conway, Team Leader, Community Learning and Development) has been identified to progress this work.

4.4 In keeping with the ethos of co-design as outlined at Paragraph 1.4, local young people including Inverclyde's Members of the Scottish Youth Parliament, Youth Council and Youth Work Sub Group have also played a significant part in the development of the plan.

4.5 Over the past few months, the various groups named above will continue to develop an ambitious, engaging and celebratory plan which will showcase the skills, talents and contributions that Inverclyde's young people make to their communities. Officers, Partners and Young People will work to engage stakeholders.

4.6 Participation – looking at how young people can influence public services and decisions which affect their lives

Education – creating a stronger role for young people in shaping their learning

Health and Wellbeing – supporting young people to lead healthier, active lives and have opportunities to learn about and improve their mental health and resilience

Equality and Discrimination – broadcasting the value of young Scots, challenging negative perceptions of young people, and supporting young people to take leading roles in challenging discrimination in all its forms

Enterprise and Regeneration – celebrating young people's role in innovation, entrepreneurship and the Scottish economy as well as making Scotland a greener and more pleasant place to live

Culture – celebrating young people's talent and contribution to Scottish culture and arts

Discussions have taken place across the authority to devise a plan that Inverclyde can be proud of. The plan will encompass the 6 sub themes and outline the key areas on which the Council and its partners will capitalise, through communications and promotion. A copy of the draft Inverclyde Year of Young People 2018 Plan can be found in Appendix 1.

5.0 PROPOSAL - INVERCLYDE YoYP DRAFT PLAN 2018

5.1 Inverclyde's plan proposes a significant 'Highlight' event or activity for each theme. The enhanced programme is dependent on funding being secured (as appendix 1).

Participation – Hosting two 'Clyde Conversations' Events in February 2018 and November 2018 bringing young people together to discuss key issues affecting them and to develop a plan of action to address these issues

Education – Launching Inverclyde's Police Scotland Young Volunteers initiative in January 2018 with 24 young people and a range of Adult Volunteers to support this project.

Set up Young Person consultancy group to evaluate the impact of Scottish Attainment

Challenge and Pupil Equity Funding on Young People. February 2018

Health & Wellbeing – We hope to re-launch “Youth in the Park” in 2018, bringing together a range of youth work partners under the banner of Health & Wellbeing and Participation

Equality and Discrimination – Achieving and Launching Inverclyde’s LGBT Youth Charter

Enterprise and Regeneration – A range of enterprise and fundraising activities throughout the year with proceeds going to local charities – all led and delivered by young people

Culture – Subject to specific funding, Inverclyde plan on hosting a large scale Youth Work Event in Port Glasgow over 2 days in June 2018 for all 32 Local Authorities and we expect 320+ young people to attend

The work being proposed not only encourages our young people to engage in civic life, but also promotes a positive story of young people across our communities and beyond.

6.0 IMPLICATIONS

Finance

6.1 In the main, it is anticipated that the proposed local YoYP 2018 Plan will be contained within existing service budget with expectation of some additional funding to supplement. Some of the activity being proposed is however dependent on the funding being secured. Nevertheless, it is important that any plan to celebrate, acknowledge and inspire our young people should be both daring and ambitious.

Inverclyde's Year of Young People 2018 Plan

Supporting Communities...Creating Change

The Scottish Government established its first Themed year in 2009, 'Year of Homecoming'. This proved a success for Scotland, creating a string of benefits for the country whilst boosting tourism. In recognition of the success, a series of Themed Years were announced and has continued to be a success for the country. Currently we are within the Year of History, Heritage and Archaeology.

The Scottish Government has however taken a bold step to move away from the traditional Themed Year concept which has been focused around tourism, but to create a themed year that will celebrate a sub group of the Scottish population, our young people. 2018 will see Scotland celebrate the Year of Young People.

This year will see an exciting programme of educational and cultural events centred on another of Scotland's great assets, our young people, driven by collaboration across a range of sectors and interests. A high impact, celebratory events programme, with young people at the heart of development and delivery, will create new and valuable experiences for young Scots and their families and visitors.

This themed year as referred to earlier, differs significantly more than previous years. The Scottish Government wishes to use this year to showcase the skills and talents of our young people, in particular by requiring that the local and national plans being developed are co-designed and co-produced with young people.

Three national youth work organisations were approached to work with young people to assist design and coordinate the Year of Young People, those being; Children In Scotland, Young Scot and the Scottish Youth Parliament. As a result, the Year of Young People 2018 (YoYP 2018) has been co-designed with young people right from the very beginning and co-design is central to all aspects of the year. Preparation work started over two years ago, and young people have been co-designing their year with partners since then. Everything from the year's six themes to the logo and website were co-designed with young people, and we want to ensure that co-design continues throughout partner's planning and preparation of their activities.

A significant exercise of consulting young people across Scotland and the recruitment of young people to become Ambassadors for the themed year resulted in a planned approach to the themed year with the following sub themes being identified:

- Participation – looking at how young people can influence public services and decisions which affect their lives
- Education – creating a stronger role for young people in shaping their learning
- Health and Wellbeing – supporting young people to lead healthier, active lives and have opportunities to learn about and improve their mental health and resilience
- Equality and Discrimination – broadcasting the value of young Scots, challenging negative perceptions of young people, and supporting young people to take leading roles in challenging discrimination in all its forms
- Enterprise and Regeneration – celebrating young people's role in innovation, entrepreneurship and the Scottish economy as well as making Scotland a greener and more pleasant place to live
- Culture – celebrating young people's talent and contribution to Scottish culture and arts.

Inverclyde Council's Community Learning and Development service recognises that there are significant opportunities for local young people to gain positive press and recognition from its communities whilst promoting a positive story of our young people. The work being proposed not only encourages our young people to engage in civic life, but also shows the commitment of the authority to the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC), especially underpinning articles 3, 4, 12, 13, 14, 17, 28, 29 and 31. Above all the work will promote a positive story of young people across our communities and beyond.

Woven throughout the work of the plan will be an emphasis on recognising the many hours that young people give back to their local communities. It is intended that the Saltire Awards will be intensely promoted throughout the year. Furthermore, we intend on offering a range of additional accredited opportunities for young people that may include Youth Achievement Awards, John Muir Award and SQA units and awards. We are planning on hosting Inverclyde's first ever Young Person's Celebration Event during National Youth Work Week in November 2018.

The following tables outline the proposed activity across all the sub themes for Inverclyde over and above that being delivered by community and voluntary groups throughout the authority area. The Youth Work Sub Group acknowledges that for some of the activity being proposed is dependent on the funding being secured. However, the group felt that it was important that any plan to celebrate, acknowledge and inspire our young people should be daring and ambitious in its ask.

The following undernoted endorse the ambition of this proposed plan:-

It is recognised that to obtain the greatest impact from the Year of Young People 2018 themed year that our communication and promotions approach is vital. To this end, there has been some work undertaken to suggest how this aspect of the themed year should be taken forward. The following table outlines the various mediums suggested for conveying the plan and for communicating to the wider communities:

COMMUNICATION AND PROMOTION
Medium	Description
Hashtag & strapline	It is recommended that a range of campaigns be branded up with the YoYP 2018 hashtag and strapline, where it lends itself to the principles of the themed year. A number of suggestions can be found in the table below 'Events, Campaigns and Awareness Opportunities'. It is also suggested that the Council and its Community Planning Partners incorporate the 'Inverclyde is a supporter of 2018 Year of Young People ' strapline and consider including a link to the YoYP 2018 webpage.
Print	Local Press be encouraged to positively cover the activities planned within this plan and to be encouraged to undertake community interest editorials where we promote the imagery and achievements of young people and highlight the amazing contribution that our young people make to civic life.
Social Media	The YoYP 2018 is an excellent opportunity to showcase the positive work being undertaken with our young people and Social Media is a great platform in which to promote this. Our Young People acknowledge that differing social media platforms attract differing aged young people. The feedback from the Youth Council suggests that the use of SnapChat, Instagram, Twitter and Facebook would be the best platforms to use. It is therefore recommended that we utilise the hashtag and straplines across these platforms locally if permitted.
Website	It was suggested that a YoYP 2018 page be established within the Community Learning and Development Website to act as a landing page for all YoYP 2018 activity taking place within the authority.
Thumb print tree	At Youth in the Park all young people who attend will be encouraged to leave their thumb print as a leaf on our YoYP Inverclyde tree, once finished this tree will then be framed and presented to the Provost as a lasting legacy of the YoYP to be hung in the Municipal Buildings or Grand Corridor

We recognised that there are a number of local, national and international events, campaigns and awareness opportunities for which the YoYP 2018 could capitalise on. The following table gives some examples of such events and campaigns. It was felt that work could be done in partnership with our young people either within schools, community or other youth settings to contribute to these events and ensure that the YoYP 2018 hashtag and strapline is associated and connected with this work. Again this is not an exhaustive list.
